The State Fair is in progress this week in Columbia. Several of our citizens have availed themselves of the opportunity to visit our capital city, and to see the fine display of cattle, poultry and farm products of the State.

There will be a school meeting at Wolf Stake church, on Saturday, November 15th, at 2 o'clock p. m., at which meeting School Commissioner Macaulay and S. P. Stripling are invited to be present. The citizens of Wolf Stake School District are urgently requested to be present.

Recently, at the close of the celebration of a Buddhist festival in the province of Sze-Chuen, China, a number of organized mobs attacked several Christian villages, burning the buildings and looting their contents. Twenty native converts to Christianity were killed during the disturbance and their bodies thrown into the Yang-tse-Kiang river.

Henry Clews, of New York, in his weekly financial circular last week, gives the following quotations for wheat, corn and cotton for the week ending November 7, 1890, and for the month of November, 1890: Wheat 1890, 25,712,578 bushels; 1890, 21,235,531 bushels; corn 1890, 7,702,539 bushels; 1890, 7,017,335 bushels; cotton 1890, 2,070,001 bales; 1890, 2,300,176 bales.

The Legislature of Georgia assembled in Atlanta on Wednesday of last week. Hon. Mr. Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, was elected Speaker of the House, and Hon. R. G. Mitchell was elected President of the Senate. The inauguration of Hon. W. J. Northen, Governor elect, took place on Saturday. His inauguration address is very interesting.

Application will be made to the Legislature of Georgia for an act to amend the prohibition law of Hart county and provide a system to establish an agent in the county of Hart for the purpose of selling liquor for medicinal purposes only, and for other purposes. If the amendment is made the sick list in that county will be on the increase.—Carnegieville Enterprise.

Died, at his residence, near West Union, Sunday morning, 9th instant, after a lingering illness, Mr. J. F. Nesmith, aged about 65 years. He was a native of Williamsburg county, and moved to Oconee seven years ago. He was buried Monday morning on his own place, near his residence, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. K. L. Duffie, attended by a goodly number of sympathizing friends and acquaintances. He leaves a wife and three sons, to whom we extend our condolences.

Mr. W. Harrison Knox, a native of Oconee well and favorably known to most of our readers, died at his home in Cross Anchor, nearburg county, S. C., on the 4th day of November, of cancer of the stomach. Mr. Knox was forty-five years of age, and had lived an orderly Christian life for most of that period. He leaves a family and numerous friends to mourn their loss.

Ex-President Cleveland took his place in line on election day in New York and waited patiently for an opportunity to vote and did vote. This was his duty.—The New York "World" says that on the same day Col. John C. Haskell, of Columbia, S. C., a member of the National Democratic Committee, was in New York and of course could not vote.

We gladly welcome to our town Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Downs and child, from New Haven, Connecticut. They came to Wall-halla to escape the rigors of the Northern climate during three winter months, which they intend to spend here. They arrived last week and are occupying the cottage residence of Mr. V. L. Norman, on Main street. We bespeak for them a hearty reception by all our people.

The "Old Folks' Concert," given by the young people of the Methodist church on last Friday night, was in all respects a success. The programme was an attractive one and well rendered. The music and recitations were excellent. The costumes were antique, unique, and some of them quite amusing. The performance has been complimented on all sides. A nice sum was raised for the new parsonage.

Our friend, S. W. Hill, Esq., and his lady, were in Wall-halla last Thursday, on the way to their home in Chick Springs, Greenville county. He is one of the oldest subscribers to the COURIER, having taken it continually for forty years. Though an old man he is hale and strong, and rode seventy-five miles in his buggy to reach his old home at Highlands, N. C., to vote the Democratic ticket in the late election.

Mr. J. Earle Lewis' fine horse, "Margie," carried off first premium again at the Atlanta Exposition. He took first premium for best roadster stallion, and also first premium for best standard bred stallion and not less than three of his get, making over $200.00 in premiums awarded to him and his colts. Mr. Lewis was also awarded the first premium on "Kicker," for best standard bred brood mare and colt. This makes three years in succession that "Margie" has secured the first premiums in Georgia. Mr. Lewis will take his horses to the State Fair.

It is publicly stated by Alliancomen that at the meeting of the Oconee County Alliance, held last Saturday in Wall-halla Court House, it was decided to establish an Alliance organ for the county, to be published at Wall-halla. It is said that stock has been taken to the amount of one thousand dollars by the members of the Alliance. A board of directors was appointed, consisting of seven members, who will see to the purchasing of an outfit and establishing the paper. It was also decided to put up a large Alliance store at Seneca.

Mrs. A. P. McClair has an interesting relic which she showed us recently. It is a newspaper, the Commercial Advertiser, published in New York, and dated October 2, 1797. The foreign correspondence contains several items of news concerning La Fayette, and much information regarding the war then raging between France and Italy, and their allies. A letter signed Bonaparte is written from Milan, dated August 1, 1797. The paper is well preserved. The long, straight letter is the most striking feature of its typography.

The following are the arrivals at the Norman Park Hotel for the past week ending Tuesday, November 11th: S. C. Smith, P. Sullivan, Cleveland; J. P. Patton, W. B. Burns, David R. Hooks, E. D. Hatcher, Jas. H. Price, Atlanta; E. T. Hancock, Richmond; Sylvester Pike, wife and three children, Bridgeport, Conn.; Geo. Henry, Highlands; H. W. Edelen, Baltimore; J. F. Fowler, Anderson; Col. T. B. Demaree, Louisville; Miss Josie Harrison, Mrs. M. G. Harrison, S. M. Johnson and wife, City; Harry H. Blease, Newberry; T. H. Downs, wife and child, New Haven; T. H. Hughes, Richmond; Edward Daniels, D. W. Moore, Greenville; S. S. Stokes, Union; S. Cunningham, S. C.; John S. Price, N. C.; W. Grier, Valdosta, Ga.; John Smalley, Bridgeport, N. J.; B. K. Beacham, Abbeville.

Died, at Central, in Pickens county, at the residence of his sister, November 2d, 1890, Mr. Jesse J. Smith, aged about 65 years. He was buried on Tuesday, 4th instant, at Old Lebanon, three miles below Pendleton. Mr. Smith was the youngest son of Capt. Aaron Smith, of Anderson county, and was favorably known to the people of that county, where he has many relatives and friends. Long before the war he went to Texas, and settled in Henderson county and was elected Sheriff of that county several times. During the war he was badly wounded, having his right arm shattered by a shot from the enemy, besides being wounded in other portions of the body. He belonged to the Western army and was a brave soldier. After the war he returned to his native State, where he died under his death. His health had improved for several years. He was an uncle of Mr. D. A. Smith, of the COURIER.

Mr. G. W. Pratt lost a fine horse Tuesday.

Miss Selma Norman left our town this morning for a visit to her brother, Dr. R. E. Norman, of Middleburg, Fla.

Messrs. Eugene Lewis and Sam Pickett have entered the Clemson College, and have the honor of having their names enrolled at the first students of this institution. They are to assist the President in his work and business until the college opens for the regular attendance of students, which will be in about one more year. They began work on Monday, 6th instant.

Henry Wright, colored, was convicted before Trial Justice Todd, at Seneca, last Friday of buying seed cotton between sundown and sunrise, and also for trafficking in seed cotton without keeping a book of registry. He was sentenced to jail for thirty days in each case.

The Carolina Hotel, at Rock Hill, S. C., will pass into the hands of Messrs. Norman Bros., of our town, on the 1st of January next for a term of years. "The Carolina" is a large three-story brick structure, handsomely furnished with modern appointments. Mr. V. L. Norman, the present manager of the popular Norman Park, will have charge of the Rock Hill hotel, while Mr. C. D. Norman, of Georgetown, will conduct the hotel here. Miss Nannie Dickson, the efficient housekeeper of the Norman Park, will go to Rock Hill with Mr. and Mrs. Norman.

A frightful and dangerous accident happened to Mr. Robert Hunt on Main Street in front of the post office on Tuesday afternoon. As he went to alight from his mule he foot caught in the stirrup. The mule became frightened and ran about one hundred yards, dragging Mr. Hunt until the stirrup leather broke thereby freeing him and saving his life. Fortunately he was bruised only slightly for his escape was almost miraculous. The bystanders say it was a most exciting incident.

Our Seneca Correspondence.

SENECA, S. C., November 11, '90.

Mr. R. M. Tribble and Miss Lizzie C. Yarbrough were married at the residence of Col. F. A. Hoie on Sunday evening, November 9th, by Rev. Dr. Chas. Manly. Few persons knew anything about it till next day.

Mrs. Kate Lowery, the venerable widow of the late A. J. Lowery, died last night at 11 o'clock, of pneumonia. Mrs. Lowery was about 80 years old, and had been a remarkably active woman all her long life. She did not survive her husband long. She will be buried in Oak Hill Cemetery to-morrow.

It is expected that an Alliance store will be in operation here before a great while. We are informed that this matter was decided at the last county meeting.

Important changes will soon take place at the depot here. Mr. H. I. Adams, who has been serving the R. R. company as its agent here for about eight years, retires, having resigned, and will be succeeded by Mr. H. J. Gignalliat, agent at Easley, and Mr. O. Ramsay Doyle, the operator here will succeed Mr. Gignalliat at Easley.

There is a great demand for houses here now and no houses to supply the demand.

Rev. M. R. Kirkpatrick, of Clover, preached last Saturday night and Sunday in the Presbyterian church, and everyone who heard him was pleased. An effort will be made to secure him as pastor.

Our Westminster Correspondence.

WESTMINSTER, S. C., Nov. 11, '90.

DEAR COURIER: The election is over, and we have all cooled down and gone to work just like we did in the good old times when everybody was honest; and I don't hear of any one being hurt or disappointed.

We are having a fine spell of weather for gathering the crop, and every one is making good use of it. Crops are very good too. It is said that there is a very fine crop of opossums in the neighborhood; and as chickens and beef are very scarce, they come in very well.

There are still some improvements going on in Westminster. Mr. John Carter's dwelling is being repaired under the skillful workmanship of Mr. Jeff. Waldrup. This will be a handsome building when completed.

The Town Council have extended the street leading from the school building across the railroad to Main Street, which will add something both in convenience and appearance.

The machine shop of Messrs. Dickson & Terrell, in connection with a foundry will soon be operated by ten experienced hands. This looks like business.

Mr. J. H. Elrod & Co. have purchased the property known as the Stripling stand. They are making some improvements which adds very much to the appearance of the place.

Mrs. J. D. Dickson and her three sweet little girls, of Greenville, are visiting their many friends and relatives.

Mr. Sam. P. Smith, formerly of the firm of Dr. Mitchell, is spending a few days with his many friends.

The school seems to be very prosperous and everybody well pleased. 78 pupils are in attendance. Mr. S. P. Stripling, principal, Misses Sholdon and Barton, assistants, have about 26 in each department. They give practical illustrations on blackboard, or otherwise, on each recitation. The public session will commence the 1st of January. It seems that everybody is interested in the school.

Rev. M. R. Kirkpatrick preached in the Presbyterian church here last Saturday morning.

Rev. Cooke preached on Sunday and Sunday night. He will preach at Bachelor on the 4th Sunday and Saturday before.

Rev. Mike McGee will preach in the Baptist church here on the 3d Sunday in November.

WASHINGTON, November 7.—The full report of the Commissioner of Pensions, issued to-day, shows that twenty-five widows of Revolutionary soldiers were drawing pensions at the close of the last fiscal year. The oldest of these is Annie Maria Young, aged 98, widow of Jacob Young, of the Pennsylvania troops in the Revolutionary war, and Susan Curtis, also 98, widow of Caleb Curtis, of the Massachusetts troops. The youngest is Nancy A. Green, aged 72, whose husband was in the South Carolina troops. Five of the number still reside in the States in whose troops their husbands served.

A Letter from Piedmont, S. C.

PIEDMONT, S. C., November 10, '90.

DEAR COURIER: Probably a few dots from our town will be of interest to some of your readers, as there are quite a number of families here who came from Oconee.

Under the supervision of Col. H. P. Hammett, President, and Capt. Jas. F. Iler, Superintendent, the work of the Piedmont Manufacturing Company is progressing as nicely and smoothly as could be desired. All the machinery in the new mill is now in operation and is doing first class work. They have just completed a rock dam across the river. The workmanship is first class in every particular and is quite an improvement on the former, which was constructed of wood. They are also constructing a large warehouse on the Anderson side, which is nearing completion, and when finished will hold several thousand bales of cotton.

The recent frost has changed the forest and vegetation growth from its green color. They now present the beautiful colors of yellow, green and red.

Notwithstanding the recent changes of weather, there is comparatively little sickness in town at present.

Our schools have resumed their work. We have two, one on each side of the river. They are both under good management and in a flourishing condition.

Sammie, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Whitmore, formerly of Oconee, died a few days ago from bilious fever.

Rev. T. C. Ligon preached his farewell sermon at this place last Sunday to a large and attentive congregation. He has served the people of Piedmont for four years, during which time he has done earnest and faithful work, and it is with much regret that we have to give him up. The people are already wondering who they will have for their preacher next year.

Quite a number of our young men visited Charleston during Gala Week. They returned much pleased with their trip. They have been busy since they returned telling others what they saw and heard. They are getting off jokes on each other about how they acted while there. The best that we have heard on any of them was a young man going to a livery stable to engage a turnout to drive to Sullivan's Island.

As this is my first attempt, and for fear it finds its way to the waste basket, I will close.

Our Richland Correspondence.

RICHLAND, S. C., Nov. 11, 1890.

DEAR COURIER: In our last week's communication we observe that you substituted the word sorriest for severest, which exactly reversed our sentiments, but we remember that we wrote very hurriedly on bad paper, and it must have taken several minutes of your time to reduce our manuscript to readable form. Of course we will pardon the error as an unintentional one.

Mr. J. P. Stripling has been quite sick for a few days, but is now improving.

Mr. Wm. Hayes is said to be improving slowly.

Miss McMahon, who lives at Mr. J. J. Ballenger's, is not expected to live. She has been very low for some time and we are informed that her case has developed into consumption.

Mr. Jno. V. Stripling is devoting the most of his time to work on Mr. T. B. Wyly's new house, which is to embrace many improvements original with him.

Miss Lucy Stripling's school improves slowly.

Mr. Samuel Pryor, a young man naturally almost blind, who went from this neighborhood to Cedar Springs Institute several years ago, is to begin instructing a class in instrumental music at the Academy next Monday and will continue as long as his patrons desire his services. He will devote about one hour to instruction of each pupil every other day. Rates, three dollars per month. We think he is a worthy young man and we hope he will get up a class here that will pay him well for his services.

Capt. H. L. Coe has been appointed Superintendent of bridges and trestles, etc., from Atlanta to Charlotte. This promotion will allow him more time to be with his family, and he will now begin to reap some reward for his long continued close application to business.

Mr. T. H. Hughes, together with Col. Jno. S. Verner, has accepted a general agency for the Valley Mutual Insurance Company and he leaves to-day for Columbia, where he will take charge of an office for the management of business in this State.

Mr. E. D. Foster caught a very large owl in a steel trap last week and shot another yesterday. He takes the cake for "scalping" hawks and owls.

The woman's missionary quilting, which took place at our house on Friday last, was a very pleasant occasion, and we think every neighborhood should have some such organization for social as well as other improvements.

Big Railroad Project.

AN INSIDE COAST ROUTE BETWEEN CHARLESTON AND NORTHERN CITIES.

The Baltimore Sun, of November 8, says: "The Charleston, Wilmington and Norfolk railroad has been incorporated with a capital of $6,000,000. John C. McNaughton, of this city, is President, and the headquarters of the new company, for the present, at least, will be in Baltimore. The railroad is to form a new inside Atlantic coast route, and it is claimed will shorten the distance between Northern cities and Charleston and points further South about one hundred miles compared with existing lines. A meeting of the company was held yesterday, and the purchase of the charters of the Mt. Pleasant, Santee and Little River railroads in South Carolina, and of the Portsmouth and South Mills railroad company, in Virginia, authorized. These charters, with the company's own, give it the right to build between Norfolk and Charleston 395 miles and branches. A contract was made with the Carolina Construction Company to build the road, and work has begun.

"The officers, in addition to Mr. McNaughton, President, are H. Duncan Harris, of New York, Vice-President and Treasurer; Carroll Foster, of Philadelphia, Secretary, and the following directors: Ex-Governor Thomas J. Jarvis, of North Carolina; Hon. Thomas Pinckney, of South Carolina; C. W. Kennedy, of Philadelphia; R. Duncan Harris, of New York; J. C. McNaughton, of Philadelphia; Hon. J. L. Delano, of Ohio; Gen. T. A. Hugenott, of Charleston; Hon. A. S. Huguenott, of Maryland; Hon. S. C. Waller, of Pennsylvania; Lewis A. Conwell, of Philadelphia; Wm. A. Hazard, of New York; Carroll Foster, of Philadelphia; M. J. Ramsey, of Philadelphia; Hon. A. J. Hodder, of New York, and James McKenna, of Philadelphia. The company will issue $6,000,000 of first mortgage bonds. The Carolina Land Company has been organized by the same stockholders, with a capital of $1,000,000, and the Carolina Construction Company, with a capital of $250,000. Of the railroad companies' capital, $500,000 has been subscribed."

Wolf Stake Alliance!

By request, a meeting of this Alliance is called to meet on the 15th instant, at 8 p. m. All members are requested to meet on this date, as business of importance will be before this Alliance for transaction.

C. R. D. BURNS, President.

J. W. REEDER, Secretary.

Why Is It?

We have, in our experience, met a number of men, in every imaginable line of business; but the happiest, most energetic and agreeable fellows are the agents of the well-known and popular "Davis Sowing Machine." They are as happy as the day is long. They make everybody with whom they have dealings feel the same. Why is it? They are men from the ordinary paths of life; chosen more for their honesty and respectability than on account of mechanical skill, because this "Davis" machine is the very acme of mechanical simplicity and requires no skill in its manipulation. One hour's operation in a customer's house amply demonstrates this fact and its advantages become at once apparent. It does not take the lady long to decide in favor of this machine, finding, as she does, that she can do work on it that would be impossible on machines of the underfeud pattern. Any lady who has any knowledge of the Davis and other machines, will tell you without hesitation that the Davis is incomparably the best. Not only will it perform more than double the work possible with any other machine, but the work is done with half the exertion and with an ease that is as skill in its manipulation. Sold by Alexander Bros. & Co., Greenville, S. C.
